

Teambuilding On or Off the Course

The most productive ideas are born outside of the "Boredroom" whether on the fairway or participating in other engaging team building events. The Myrtle Beach area offers several unique executive retreat teambuilding opportunities. You can never go wrong with golf tournaments on world class golf courses. But there are other exciting options to explore such as fly fishing adventures, kayak tours, sport shooting, trophy fishing, ocean wreck diving, climbing wall and ropes courses or wine tasting at the areas local wineries.

The AAA four-diamond Marina Inn at Grande Dunes works with several of the areas local teambuilding experts to maximize your group's teambuilding experience.

The Grande Dunes property features two of the finest courses in South Carolina – the National Golf Course Association's 2009 National Golf Course of the Year, "The Resort Club at Grande Dunes," and the private "Members Club at Grande Dunes" where guests of the Marina Inn may play the natural terrain designed by Nick Price.

Off the course, the unique event space provides a magnificent backdrop with dazzling views. There are several options to choose from for events from 15-600. The 200 guestrooms range from oversized hotel guestrooms to three-bedroom villas. All rooms have a terrace with spectacular views and offers exceptional amenities. Outstanding hotel amenities include naturally landscaped beach, pools and whirlpools, fitness facility and wi-fi. There are several dining options including WaterScapes, the Marina Inn's signature restaurant specializing in fresh, local cuisine.

From championship golf to exquisite dining, the many exceptional amenities offer a caring attitude and style shared by every member of the staff.
